

 bodhi bill miller
SONGS for SEEKERS

Little Heart

LITTLE HEART is a song I wrote to myself about opening up to all life. It's an ongoing process.

Guitarists note: I leave the “B” string open on the “A” chord and the high “E” string open on the “D” chord for the fingerpicking.

bodhibill.com

LITTLE HEART

Music and Lyric by Bodhi Bill Miller

©1998 Bodhi Bill Miller. All rights reserved.

Publishing and performing information: Bill@BodhiBill.com

A D
Be still, little heart, do not tremble,
A E E7
Be still, little heart, do not fear;
F C
There's no one in this world you don't resemble,
B7 E E7
No reason in this world to disappear.

A D
All this life you've longed for your ascension,
A E E7
To soar from this facade and be revealed;
F C
You've nothing left to lose but apprehension,
B7 E E7
Nothing left to gain by being concealed.

F Bb
There is only one heart in all creation,
F C E7
One heart from which all others beat in time —

A D
So open up yourself all life is waiting,
A E E7
Let yourself complete what you've begun;
F C
Don't let this moment pass anticipating,
D E A
There is no perfect world that's yet to come.

F Bb
For there is only one heart in all creation,
F C E7
One heart from which all others beat in time —

A D
So open up yourself all life is waiting,
A E E7
Let yourself complete what you've begun;
F C
Don't let this moment pass anticipating,
D E A
Open up, embrace life now, as One.

CARRY ON: ©2018 Bodhi Bill Miller. BodhiBill.com. All rights reserved.